WHAT MR. ELMORE SAYS ABOUT SEPARATING ORES.

The Ada-Florence Vein Has Been Followed for Several Miles.—All Mines at Work.

THE POGUE MAKING A LARGE OUTPUT.

Mr. Guy H. Elmore, President of the American Concentrating Company, of Joplin, Mo., was in our city last week. He also visited a number of our mines and talked freely about the separation of our ores. Mr. Elmore thinks the separation of fluor spar and zinc will be quite an easy problem, with the right kind of machinery, and the right kind of a man at the head to install it and run it. We are very glad to hear this from Mr. Elmore, as he is counted one of the best mill men and ore dressers in America. And fortunately we will only need this kind of machinery at a few of our mines, as the Old Jim, the Columbia, Blue & Nunn Nine Acres and some other mines in the district have no fluor spar mixed with their zinc. The analysis shows there is no fluor spar below one hundred feet on the Columbia vein, and the Blue & Nunn Nine Acres on the Columbia vein is also free from fluor spar, and the Columbia Mining Company are milling a high grade ore for them from that mine with the common Joplin jigs and Allis chamber tables.

The separation of the mineral that is being mined by the Commodore Mining Company will also be a very easy problem, as so far as they have gone down they have nothing but lead and spar. This can be separated easily with the common topin jigs. And it is anticipated by most expert miners there will be no fluor spar in this mine below seventy five or one hundred feet. However there may be a mixture of lead, zinc and fluor spar from 60 to 75 feet. As zinc will be more than apt to show itself at 60 feet or at a less depth, and fluor spar will begin to diminish as soon as zinc puts in its appearance, and at the depth stated above there will be no fluor spar as is the case in the old LaRue shaft at ninety two feet on the same vein.

The Kentucky Fluor Spar Company will buy all the spar they can get and pay good prices for it too.

J. L. Harpending, with mine surveyor Kay K. Kevil, on Wednesday and Thursday of last week made a survey of the Ada-Florence lead vein. Taking the degree from the 40 foot level, which was 25 W. of S., they passed through the Hopewell mines, cutting their shaft in two, then through the farms of Tom Carter, J. B. Carter, James Franklin, L. F. Settles, T. M. LaRue, Will Taylor, Robert Threlkeld, Wm S. Lowrey, Harris Austin, T. A. Harpending, J. H. Crosson, W. C. Tyner, C. R. Stevens, Eagle Fluor Spar Co., Albany Mining and Investment Company, the Ella Shelby tract.

Kevil and Harpending say they discovered on several farms good surface prospects and as that country is all unoptioned they think it well for mining men to investigate some.

Some of the miners from the Ada-Florence was in town Saturday, and tell us that the company has stopped sinking until Mr. Persons gets back from Mineral Point. But some of the miners are kept at work in cross-cutting their vein. They have already driven through eight feet of solid ore, and it appears as though they might have eight feet more to go before getting through, which would make a vein of solid ore sixteen feet wide.

Mr. Harry Watkins tells us that Mr. L. C. Garrett made a thorough separation of lead, zinc and fluor spar with a Crom machine at his mill in Paducah. The ore was thoroughly mixed with all three minerals, and came out of the Rossi Clair shaft.

Mr. Guy H. Elmore left Marion last Friday for Evansville, Indiana. Mr. Elmore is building a large mill on Lead Hill, close to Cave-in-Rock for some Evansville people.

The shaft at the Pogue mine is in fine condition, also the drifts which have recently been made by Superintendent Fred Clement. This mine is one the greatest spar producer in the world. It is now taking out between 50 and 60 tons of No. 1 grinding per every twenty-four hours.

It is reported that the largest lumps of lead and spar ever mined in the world was mined at the Commodore mines, on the Dave Franks place. The chunks had to be broken in the shaft before being taken out.

Notice to Stockholders

Notice is hereby given that the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Marion Zinc Company will be held at the office of the Company, Room Twelve, Kent Block, Cheyenne, Wyoming, on the 7th day of February, A. D. 1905, at the hour of 2 p. m.

The meeting will be held for the purpose of electing a Board of Trustees and the consideration of other business properly brought before the meeting.

CHARLES S. KNOX,
President.

REVOLUTION

Confronts the Russian Czar in His Capital At St. Petersburg.

Unarmed Laborer Shot Down and Sabered by Cossacks.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 23.—There are 2,000 dead in the streets, and 5,000 wounded in the hospitals, and still the workmen of St. Petersburg are fighting the soldiers of the Czar.

On every hand is heard the word revolution.

The mob, snatched at the bridges, driven from their barricades with appalling slaughter, ridden over, sabered and shot and beaten, rallied in the evening and is again streaming out of the Nevsky Prospect in the direction of the Moscow station.

It is no longer the submissive crowd that submitted to be shot and slashed in the morning.

Many of them have obtained arms and the rifle fire of the troops is being answered with pistol shots. They are smashing windows and destroying property all along their way.

The whole city is in an uproar; nobody knows what daylight will reveal.

Since yesterday morning the approaches of the bridges across the Neva have been shambles.

There are fifty thousand soldiers fighting the risen populace; opposed to them is an incalculable mob.

On every hand is heard cries of "Liberty, Fraternity and Equality." The students who have joined the working men, are singing the Marseillaise, and in a hundred dreadful particulars the early scenes of the French Revolution are being repeated in the frozen St. Petersburg.

The blood which crimsoned the snow has fired the brains and passions of the strikers and has turned women as well as men into wild beasts. The cry of the infuriated populace is for vengeance.

The sympathy of the middle class is with the workingmen.

Gorky, the Russian novelist, expresses the opinion that today's work will break the faith of the people in the Emperor. He said today:

"Today inaugurated revolution in Russia. The Emperor's prestige will be irrevocably shattered by the shedding of innocent blood. He has alienated himself forever from his people. Gorky told the people that a direct appeal to 'The Little Father' would be hopeless. They have been undeceived. Gorky is now convinced that all peaceful means have failed and that the only remedy is force. Blood has been shed but more will follow. It is now the people against their oppressors, and the battle will be fought to the bitter end."

Moscow, Jan. 24.—The strike is spreading rapidly. All printing work has been stopped. No newspapers will be issued tomorrow.

The police have ordered all arms removed from the windows of gunsmiths, a majority of whom have closed their shops.

The strikers here at noon today numbered 10,000.

A large number of factory hands are joining the strikers.

Vilna, Russia, Jan. 24.—A strike has commenced here.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 24.—The most startling feature of the situation tonight is the news that the strike has spread to Moscow and is still spreading.

The whole city is reported to be in a state of great excitement over the news of the bloodshed here yesterday.

Moscow has more workmen and less troops than St. Petersburg.

one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarh. Hall's Catarh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarh being a constitutional disease, requires a con-directly upon the blood and mucous giving the patient strength by build-

LIFE HANGS ON A THREAD.

Pittsburg, Pa. Jan 15.—Should the Pennsylvania train from Harrisburg tonight lose two hours before reaching Pittsburg, Reno Dardio, a condemned murderer, will be hanged tomorrow, but should it reach here before ten o'- clock his life may be saved.

Sheriff Dixon and Gov. Pennypacker had a long talk over the telephone tonight, and though told that a messenger was coming the Sheriff told the Governor that Dardio would be hanged at the prescribed hour if he did not stop the case through his messenger.

Dardio once escaped the noose by showing that he had not been convicted under his right name.
Today, while the scaffold was being built, his attorneys went into court and got out papers to declare him insane.

Dardio tonight, in jest, offered a wager with the sheriff that he would not hang.

One of the chief objections to the removal of the State capitol from its present site was the assertion that the square now occupied by the capitol would revert to the original owners in case the building was removed from it. This objection has been brushed aside by the production of a warranty deed conveying the land to the State of Kentucky in perpetuity and without reservation. It is now up to the Legislature to select a new site for the capitol and to sell the public square to the people of Frankfort for a city park. They need one.

Gov. Hanley, the newly elected Executive of Indiana, has intimated, so it is stated, that he will refuse to honor a requisition of Gov. Beckham for the surrender of Taylor and Finley. He will base his refusal, so the report states, on the ground that he does not "propose to become a party to the miscarriage of justice." Evidently the Hoosier Executive has a very poor opinion of the honesty of Kentucky jurists.

It is stated that when Mr. Cortelyou becomes Postmaster-General in March next he will introduce many reforms, and there is legislation now pending in Congress to destroy the division between third and fourth class postage, to reduce letter postage from two cents to one cent, and to eliminate other features of the postal service which have had the effect to make it so expensive.

Speaker Cannon says there can be no tariff revision at this session of Congress because "we need the money." That is to say, the Government is hard up for cash, not withstanding the many hundreds of millions of dollars the people are yearly pouring into the public Treasury.

"What a joyous possession are the humanizing influence of exercises in the open air with its cognate pleasures. It is in this way that one is brought into closer communication with the profounder problems of the earth and sky."

It is a pity that some system of national arbitration can not be adopted for the settlement of all strikes. They disarrange the business of the country and are rarely productive of any permanent good to either party.

Has not Crittenden county patriotic Democrats enough to make martyrs of themselves by filling out a county ticket? There is no telling what the future may bring forth.

The present winter has been something of a record-breaker as regards disagreeable weather.

Commercial Club Chronicles.

The Club met Tuesday evening, January 24, in regular session at its hall in the post office building. President Cochran presiding. All officers were present, and also the directors with but two exceptions, one of whom was absent from the city. We won't tell on the other absentee but hope he will appreciate his sin of omission and come next time, even if zero weather does prevail. We had a "warm" meeting. Besides the officers and directors, there were present about a dozen members and two visitors. Mr. Granberry Jackson, of Nashville, Tenn., and Mr. W. A. Frippett, of Henderson County.

After the reports of regular and special committees were made, the water works question was fully discussed, Mr. Jackson making quite an interesting talk, and supplementing his address with full explanations in response to questions of the Club's members.

Mr. Jackson will go into the subject of water supply and distribution thoroughly while here, make all necessary preliminary surveys and report on the proposition to the joint committee composed of three club members and three city councilmen.

With this examination and full report of Mr. Jackson's in hand both the council and club will be in position to discuss the most practical method of securing water works.

Mr. Sayre, chairman of the Entertainment Committee, submitted his report of expenses incurred for the banquet; advising that 135 members and guests were present, and the total cost per plate was about $1.40. These luxuries come high, but— Chairman Sayre did not say whether he had figured in the cost for medical services for the unfortunate ones who "did not get too much to eat."

Mr. C. S. Nunn, being absent, Dr. Frazer made the report for the special committee appointed to confer with the I. C. officials, in conjunction with a committee of three councilmen, concerning protection at the two crossings within the corporate limits. These two committees met Tuesday, the 24th at 1 o'clock, in conference with Mr. Scheuing, Supt. for I. C. Mr. Scheuing expressed his pleasure at the conciliatory spirit of the two committees, and will doubtless show his appreciation more substantially by taking prompt and effective steps to furnish the desired protection. Electric bells will probably be installed, as these will afford protection almost, if not quite, equal to flag service, and further, will be effective at night, as well as day time. This much could not be expected of flag service, as flagman would only be on duty during the day.

Upon resolution of the Club the President appointed Messrs. C. S. Nunn, Carl Henderson and Julius Fobs as a committee to examine and report as to the advisability of changing the county road at the crossing of the railroad and Crayneville road, so as to lessen the danger at that crossing by giving a better view of approaching trains from both directions.

Chairman Whitehouse, of the Press Committee, exhibited a scrap book containing press clippings from various newspapers concerning the Commercial Club, and the resources of the district. He also stated that he had not prepared an itemized report of expenses incurred up to date for printing, sign painting, stationery, etc., but would do so by next meeting night.

Chairmen of the other standing committees reported "Nothing doing." We feel that this report was occasioned more by their modesty than by an actual condition, as those chairmen and members are very much alive when it comes to action upon the many propositions the club has been acting upon.

We are alive and expect to prove by the results of our efforts that we are living.

We are looking for about 25 additional members.

SUICIDE AT IRMA.

Shem H. Watson, a citizen of the Irma vicinity, stabbed himself in the heart last Sunday afternoon and died that night. No cause is known for the deed except the trouble he had while back with Wm. Tackwell, on the road near Marion, a full account of which appeared in the Press at the time. He was born in 1840, and leaves a widow and several children. The interment was at the family burying ground last Monday.

It is charged that Congressman Grosvenor defied Judge Sawyer because the Judge is a Republican. Well, he should not be expected to assent to that account. It is rather a good sign to see parties lined up a little when a matter of the judiciary is involved. Let's give Grosvenor credit for believing that Sawyer is an innocent and abused man. PRAYER STOLEN

Topeka, Kan., Jan. 21.—"Times a stolen prayer reach the eternal throne?" asked Gov. Hoch today. Then he continued:

"According to the newspapers Chaplin Condon of the Lower House of Congress in his opening prayer said: 'There is no much bad in the best of us, and so much good in the worst of us that it hardly behooves any of us to talk about the rest of us.'"

"Now, the fact is the Chaplain stole that out of my Marion Record, or out of some paper that stole it out of the Record. More than a year ago I thought that up and printed it in the 'Thoughts We Have Been Thinking.' However, I am glad the House Chaplain knows a good thing when he sees it."

The situation is so tense that many inhabitants of St. Petersburg are sending their wives and children to Helsingfors and elsewhere for safety.

Not a single mill or factory has started up. This is very significant as indicating that the workmen are being supplied with the means of war. The crowds in the streets are sullen and several thousand additional troops have been brought into the city and housed in the barracks.

Sevastopol, Jan. 23.—The vast admiralty works were destroyed by fire today. The fire broke out immediately after the second signal for beginning work was given at 7 a. m. The flames burst suddenly from different parts of the works, and the whole building was so quickly involved that men in the modeling department barely escaped by jumping out of the windows. Energetic measures prevented the flames extending to the docks. The cause of the fire is unknown.

 If the cod fish be-

it is now clear and
 of the wind breaks,
 the sun is thawing
 the snow away; it
 will not be long going and when it is gone one of the beauties of this country is we will have mud to stick to the bottom of the shoe
 except a little which will soon dry and
 be nice again.

We have fine roads
 the year round; fifty bushes of wheat is a moderate load for two mules or horses over
 any of the smoothest country. I thought
 when I purchased my
 three and one-fourth
 inch wagon that my
 team looked too light
 for it but I find that it is plenty light for them. We load according to the length of trip we are going to make, and if it is going to be very long
 and we are in a hurry,
 we put on a third and
 sometimes the fourth,
 all abreast, and if we meet a traction engine pulling a separator or even a house we pass
 each other all right.

I see a house upon
 it wheels as I write.
 It has two engines to
 it; it is the store and post office of Hills dale, a considerable
 house, being pulled
 two and a half miles to a new town on a
 new railroad called the Denver, Elaid and Gulf.

I am fourteen miles
 south and west of Pond Creek, the county seat, and don't touch
 my wagon brake going
 to or coming from town. West of me it is four miles to the hills and canons. The hills are not so high
 but crossing the canons makes some very steep places in the road.

This is a very fine
 soil west of these
 hills, and eighteen
 miles from here is the salt plains. This was reserved by the Government for the salt.
 It is twelve by fourteen miles and looks like a lake that is frozen over and a
 skin of snow over it.
 Can drive over it a dry time. This is a curiosity and a great place for ducks and geese. People sometimes lose their eyes
 sporting on it; you can see mirage by looking across it.

Seven miles west
 of the plains is Cherokee,
 a thriving and beautiful little town, on the Orient R. R. and in a beautiful country.

Six miles south of
 me is a little string
 of hills about two miles long, running
 east and west, then strikes off level, a high and very fine
 country.

This country is well settled up and with people from almost every State, and they seem to be a fairly good and civilized
 people, yet are not much christianized.
 It is easier to get company to a show
 or to a public sale
 than to church. The churches are sprinkled
 all over the country;
 four are in sight of
 me; almost every denomination is represented here.

We have a good
 school system here,
 schools from five to eight months; we have an eight month
 school. We are getting telephones and
 rural mail routes
 pretty much all over the country.

Most of this is a very fine soil, is level enough and deep enough and seems to be strong enough.
 Some of it seems to be rather sandy but
 is our best corn land;
 this is not a good
 corn country and there is not much grown here. There
 are rice, thrifty
 groves all over the country containing
 cottonwood, locust,
 maple, mulberry,
 ash and catalpa.
 There is lots of cottonwoods in the lowlands over a foot through. The mulberry is a dwarf
 with a thick, bushy
 top, mostly used for windbreaks about orchards and buildings; it is also used
 with catalpa and
 locusts for posts,
 and bears lots of
 fruit.

Everything has to be cultivated. Weeds
 and grass grow to perfection, the rank-
 est weeds and crab
 grass I ever saw.

Passing through my orchard one day
 I pulled up a bunch
 of grass and it measured fifty two inches from root to bloom and was coarse accordingly; most
 all the weeds grow
 here that grow in
 the manured and richest lands of Kentucky. The iron
 weed, careless, parsley, smartweed,
 milkweed, lambs-
 quarter, snow on
 the mountains, and
 different kinds of thistles, but the farmers take the world easy; they don't seem to care
 much for the weeds.

We don't plow or "break," as we call it in the east, land for corn and kafir, but list it in and then 'tis little cultivation it gets, and often makes as much, if not more weeds as corn.

They don't forget to use their buggies and take charge of their orchards. Cherries, peaches, plums and grapes do well, apples, trees grow very thrifty and nice and some fruit on them, but none are old enough to tell what they will finally do.

Wheat is the main crop here; kafir corn is raised. It yields well, is easy made and a fine feed. It is often used as a mix in making flour.

The lowland grows alfalfa well, in fact almost anything can be grown here. Tomatoes come near or failing than anything I have noticed, though the vines grow very rank. Beans do not do so very well; cabbage, cucumbers, radish and Irish potatoes grow well; cotton and castor beans have been grown for a crop, and do well but they said those required too much work; they have sold their cotton gins and gone to wheat, hogs and cattle.

We have as good grass as I have found in the west, and wheat most always makes some winter pasture and they say it will sometimes hide a jack rabbit.

I was looking at some very fine mules one day and spoke of them looking so well; the owner told me they didn't eat a bite of corn, except when they worked. Wheat pasture is nice for colts and calves and makes fine milk and butter, and creameries are being sprinkled over the country, which I believe will prove a blessing to the farmers later.

Flouring mills are quite a distance apart, and we give half or over for grinding, and we would be glad to see a good miller come that wants to live and let live and there is a good chance for such a one here.

Now some of you want to know what you can do here. Land is comparatively high here; is from two to nine thousand dollars to the quarter, but when you get it you have something that some one else will want and you can sell it again. Land is still advancing in price.

price. The man I paid forty-five hundred dollars to for my farm, bought it two years before for twenty-five hundred, and some of my neighbors are offered five thousand with no better farms than mine. Both south and west of here, about one hundred miles, land is cheaper, and people are selling here and going to it. You can buy almost any farm at their price.

The rate of interest is high, day goods and hardware are high, but anything you make is ready sale at a fair price for the cash; in fact you can sell anything you have. For weeks at a time you can go to public sales every day, and yet it is no place to go to get bargains. But while dry goods are high from the beginning of harvest until corn is gathered and shelled, and that is Christmas, wages is good, and a common farm hand can make a pair of shoes in a day and I don't see any reason why any one can't make a decent living here, but we don't persuade any one to come, but welcome honest, industrious people. But if you go to a friend pretending to buy on time and at the same time intending to steal it, we don't need you; please stay where you are or go the other way. And now don't wear the shoe that don't fit you. Some can't pay, but if you can't you will prove it.

If my friend would like to be informed about something here that I can help him or her in, I will cheerfully do so. But if you are interested in this country the best thing you can do is to come and see it, and don't spend your money to come unless you intend to take time to investigate the country well.

I will now close for this time but may write you again. Direct your letters to Pond Creek, O. T. R. R. 4.

Very truly yours,
 J. H. CRIDER.

SAVED BY AMERICA.

Plunderers Were Ready to Cut Up the Big Chinese Empire.

New York, Jan. 19.—A Washington dispatch to the Herald is as follows:

Secretary Hay has averted a new danger in the far East which threatened a division of China among the neutral Powers, by again cleverly committing them to the integrity of the Chinese Empire.

The Administration will probably make an announcement on the subject tomorrow. Hay was moved to take action last Friday, by persistent reports that the European Powers had concluded that the only course left to do was to divide the empire. The last assurance of support of Mr. Hay's policy came today from France.

It is understood the great international influences which were tending toward a division of China, expected to bring that policy to fruition at the close of the war. The fact that Japan, if she emerges from the war with credit, will demand special privileges in Korea, and the withdrawal of Russia from Manchuria, would disturb the present balance of power. Whatever influence Russia had in Manchuria and Korea was maintained in the face of Chinese protest and because Korea could not prevent. Under the new condition of things following the war, any neutral Power might declare her interests as being by the balance of power held by Japan with China as a declared and China as a silent ally. This would provoke a general movement among the European Powers to assume practical control of everything within their respective spheres of influence in China.

A life saved by FOERG'S REMEDY the great blood purifier

Read this grateful letter from a prominent Kentuckian

Princeton, Ky., Feb. 4th, 1908.
I wish to state for the Foerg Remedy Co., of Evansville, Ind., that I believe their great blood purifier saved my brother's life some ten years ago. He was troubled with a blood disease and seemed to have no relief until he took Foerg's Remedy. Since its manufacture by this means. After taking the bottles he was cured of his trouble, and when he died some five years ago he was entirely well of that disease. I also took two bottles as a blood purifier and was much benefited.
(Signed) C. H. LEWIS, Princeton, Ky.

People do not become interested in these subjects until falling health or a distressing outbreak of the skin reminds them sharply of their ignorance. Is it any wonder then that so many become the easy prey of venders of both inside and outside the medical surgery, and too often, find a tragically early grave, where a little common sense knowledge would have shown them the means of recovery and spared their lives. Know thyself!

AND HERE'S THE REMEDY
Forewarned is forearmed—let this warning sink deep in—obtain from us or from your druggist a trial quantity of the Remedy—test its efficiency the first time you have the opportunity, so that you may know for yourself and become an enthusiastic convert to the virtue and strength of our marvelous blood remedy—from then your cure is effected. Loaded Cannon Fired at Czer.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 20.—In spite of the official statement that the cannon shot which yesterday might easily have wiped out the whole Romanoff family, was the result of carelessness in loading a shotted cartridge in the breach of the gun after target practice, the mysterious case is still under the combined investigation of the military and police and the public seems as little inclined as the authorities to accept the published version.

The official account of the affair is as follows: "During the ceremony of the blessing of the waters of the Neva today, in the presence of the Emperor, as the usual salute was being fired, an accident happened. A charge of grape instead of a saluting charge was fired from a gun belonging to one of the saluting batteries, stationed near the Bourse. Some bullets struck the facade of the Winter Palace, near the quay gardens, breaking four windows. A policeman was killed."

FRESH JENKINS: The following has been submitted to the scrutiny of one of the leading Freshmen of the Marion Graded School and pronounced to have the true allures:

Tale of a 'Possum.

The fox was hit by lux of Luna, And 'twas a fox most opportuna, To catch a possum or a coon, For on a lay scattered o'er this mudma,
A shallow next of non profundus, On a fox with omnia unis, Two boys went out to hunt for coons
The corpus of this bonus canis Was full as long as acta span is; But brevior legs had omnia never, Quam had his dog—bonus, clever, Some need to say in statum, jocund, Quod a field was to small locum, For a fox dog to make a turnus, Circum self from stem to sternus, O. G. W.

A VIRGINIA DUEL.

Roanoke, Va., Jan. 19.—Yesterday in Franklin county, Jas Abshire and his two sons fought a revolver and shotgun duel on the pike with L. A. Pradd and a man named Holly, as a result of which the three first named are dead and Holly, who escaped injury, is in jail.

After the first round it is said that the two Abshires and Pradd were on the ground wounded; one of the Abshires reloaded his gun and deliberately blew Pradd's head off.

ARM AND ARM.

Topeka, Kan., 20.—Booker T. Washington was accorded a reception in this city today. He entered the legislature arm and arm with Gov. Hoch, who introduced him.

His reception at Wichita, where he lectured tonight, was not so cordial.

When his manager sought to gain quarters for him at the leading hotel of the city he was informed that colored people were not entertained there. The other hotels did likewise, and the negro was obliged to accept hospitality of Samuel Jones a colored politician of more or less local prominence. The hotel men say it was the first time they were ever called upon to entertain a colored man of any degree and that they propose to establish a precedent that would bar forever the Afro-American from Wichita hotels. Owing to the fact that there has been considerable agitation over the permitting of a colored orator to speak at the Kansas Day banquet, the affair created more than usual interest.

Mr F. W. J. Blackburn is denouncing Beckham and his "machine." Beckham is ridiculing Blackburn and his record. Beckham as the first special charge in his arraignment of the senior Senator characterizes him as the advocate of the "cause of Queen Liliuokalani, the dusky and deposed ruler of the Hawaiian Islands, who blushing seeks, with Senator Blackburn as her chivalrous champion, the modest sum of $200,000 from this government to soothe her wounded feelings," etc. "This, in Kentucky amounts to the injection of the 'nigger' question into the Senatorial race and if Senator Blackburn can overcome it with argument he will have established a new record in Kentucky elections.—Earlington Bee.

Dragging Pains

2825 Keeley St., Chicago, Ill., Oct. 2, 1902.

I suffered with falling and contraction of the womb, with severe pains through the groin. I suffered terribly at the time of menstruation, had blinding headaches and roasting of blood to the brain. What to try I knew not, for it seemed that I had tried all and failed, but I had never tried Wine of Cardui, that blessed remedy for sick women. I found it pleasant to take and soon knew that I had the right medicine. New blood seemed to course through my veins and after using eleven bottles I was a well woman.

Maudie Bush

Mrs. Bush is now in perfect health because she took Wine of Cardui for menstrual disorders, bearing down pains and blinding headaches when all other remedies failed to bring her relief. Any sufferer may secure health by taking Wine of Cardui in her home. The first bottle convinces the patient she is on the road to health.

An Animal Story For Little Folks

HOW MR. SNAPPER FIXED THE STYLES

Old Mr. Snapper wandered leisurely out of the pond one bright spring morning and made for the back yard of the farmhouse. He had late in the mud all winter and was now glad of the chance to get out and see something. While he was meditating in his slow fashion as to the probable crop of spring grubs he was startled by loud enterwails.

He crawled to where the noise seemed to come from, and there, on the top of the chopping block, were Tom and Jerry in a most awful dispute.

"It ought to be six inches, and you know it, you horrid thing," said Tom. "No, sir, it oughtn't to be but five. That's the style at Newport, and I don't care what you say," yelled Jerry.

"They're quarreling about the length of their tails, I do believe," said Snapper to himself. "Did you ever hear anything so stupid? Well, I'll just fix the styles for them myself."

Tom was standing with hatchet raised to cut his tail off at the length he considered fashionable. Jerry's tail was hanging temptingly over the edge of the block. Snapper grabbed the hanging tail in his iron jaws.

HE MADE A LEAP BACKWARD.

"Wow! Kty! Pizz!" yelled Jerry, and, making a gigantic leap in the air, he knocked the hatchet out of Tom's paws, which, falling on Tom's neckless tail, cut it off about halfway up. He gave a yell of pain and made a leap backward. Jerry made a brave attempt to tear his tail free, but Snapper was too quick for him, and like a pair of scissors his jaws closed on his caudal appendage and severed it completely.

"Oh, oh! What shall we do?" sobbed both kittens as they sat down and looked at their stumps of tails.

"Never mind," said Snapper, crawling up to where they sat. "They're both the same length now."

"That's so. We hadn't thought of that," they said and went on their way sorrowfully.—Worcester Post.

KENTUCKY'S

Young Men Will Meet at Owensboro, February 16-19.

We have before us a copy of the announcement of the Twenty-Seventh Annual State Convention of the Kentucky Young Men's Christian Associations to be held in the city of Owensboro, Feb. 16-19, 1905. These conventions are always looked forward to with great interest, and attract wide recognition throughout the state because of their large representation of men from all parts of the state and strong program presented. Among the speakers for this convention are: President F. W. Hinit, D. D., Danville; Frank H. Burt, Chicago; S. D. Gordon, Cleveland; C. C. Michener, Dr. Geo. J. Fisher, A. G. Knebel, Geo. B. Hodge, Tom Keenan, New York City; E. W. Peck, State Secretary, Minnesota; President J. C. Acheson, Danville, and other representative men of the state. The music will be in charge of E. W. Peck, of Minnesota, and he will have the assistance of the Henderson Male Chorus and the Boys' Orchestra of the Louisville Association.

There are to be several new and important features of the convention this year which will add largely to its efficiency. Large delegations from the 79 Associations of the state are expected. In addition to these, men members of evangelical churches in communities where there are no Associations, and who are interested in christian work for young men, are invited to attend and participate in the convention as corresponding members. A limited delegation of not over five from such a community will be entertained by the citizens of Owensboro, provided application for credential, giving name and address of pastor or clerk of church is sent to the State Secretary by February 10th.

The railroads of the state have given a rate of one and one-third cents for the round trip.

For program of the convention, information about credentials, etc., address Henry E. Roosevelt, State Secretary, Third and Broadway, Louisville.
